The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE), New York District, is excited to announce an Industry Day that will focus on key upcoming projects and initiatives. This is an excellent opportunity for businesses of all sizes and socioeconomic categories—large and small—to learn about federal contracting opportunities and discover how best to engage with the federal government.

Highlights of the Industry Day Include:

- Detailed Presentations: Procurement and Mission Overviews from the districts Engineering, Civil, Military, and Environmental Programs to name a few!
- USACE's Exciting Future Partnership with the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy: Explore future collaborative opportunities between USACE and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.
- Major Harbor Deepening Project: Gain insight into this significant dredging project and the opportunities it presents.
- Thayer Hall Project Updates: Updates on this critical West Point project and its progress since the previous Industry Day.
- FIMP Home Elevation Project Updates: A follow-up on the ongoing FIMP Home Elevation project, with important updates.
- Federal Contracting Insights: Learn about federal procurement processes, best practices, and how to navigate government contracting.
- Networking Opportunities: Meet USACE leadership, connect with peers in the industry, and explore potential collaborations.
- Open Forum for Feedback: Share your perspectives and provide valuable feedback directly to our team.
