RENEWAL

Other facts supporting the use of restricted (other than full and open) competition

The Federal Bureau of Investigation's description of additional facts which support the use of restricted (other than full and open) competition is provided below.

The Miami USERT requires the rental of a boat slip in the Dania, FL area which is located within 20 miles of the Miami office. Locating the boat in the Dania, FL area will allow the boat to be ready to deploy in evidence recovery missions in a timely manner. The marina must be able to accommodate a 34 foot boat and must have easy access to the Atlantic Ocean without having to go under any bridges. With the mast up on the boat, it will not clear bridges, and, in certain areas around Florida, the USERT would be forced to wait for draw bridges to be raised. This would greatly impede response times. Towing a boat of this size is possible but not easy in heavily congested areas. Keeping the boat in a wet slip at a marina the Dania, FL area allows the boat to be ready to deploy at any time. In addition, moving the boat further south would cause issues due to heavy traffic conditions during certain times of the day.

Statement of any actions the agency may take to remove or overcome any barriers to competition if subsequent acquisitions are anticipated

The Federal Bureau of Investigation's planned and/or executed actions to remove or overcome competitive barriers for subsequent acquisitions are described below.

A competitive procurement is planned in the future.

The USERT Team will continue to survey local marinas for their boat slip needs. At this time, it is not expected that this requirement will change.
