4a. Name of Requirement

Re-manufacture of C-130 Flap Jack Screws

b. Description of Requirement

Overhaul of C-130 inboard flap jackscrew parts 8545M1 and 8445M1 by the OEM to original T.O. and Mil-Standards.

c. Demonstrate, in Detail, Why This Specific Item or Service, is the Only One That Meets Your Requirements

A review of the Defense Reutilization and Marketing Service (DRMS) system confirms that these parts are currently routed for disposal, indicating unavailability through traditional supply channels. Linear Motion, the Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM), has been contacted and confirmed their capability to overhaul these specific parts in accordance with applicable technical guidance and Mil-Standards. Engineering has reviewed and concurred with utilizing Linear Motion LLC for the overhaul of the inboard flap jackscrew assemblies, parts 8545M1 and 8445M1. Given the criticality of these parts to flight safety, they have specified that this authorization is limited to Linear Motion manufactured parts, as the OEM possesses the highest level of expertise to ensure proper overhaul and functionality. See the Contract file for AMC form 45 dated 17 May 2024 for engineer approval.

7. POSTING REQUIREMENTS

None.

8. CONTRACTING REQUIREMENTS

a. Efforts to Obtain Competition

In an effort to obtain competition, C-130 Systems Engineers were contacted to determine what avenues are available to overhaul the required equipment. Due to the nature of the equipment, the engineer authority has only granted the OEM the authorization to overhaul these products.

b. Actions to Increase Competition

There are no actions that can be completed at this time to increase competition. In the future, if the approval authority engineers determine more than one company can provide these services, all approved companies will be solicited.

c. Market Research

Market research was conducted by the requiring activity, 189 MXG, by coordinating with DRMS, C-130 Systems Engineering AFLCM/WLNE, and the OEM Linear Motion to determine that no alternatives are available to fulfill this requirement.

d. Interested Sources

Linear Motion, LLC
