Mission Training Priorities

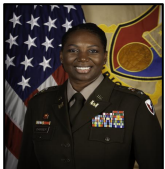

Mission: The 418th Contracting Support Brigade provides essential contracting services to its partners across the continental United States, helping to maintain a strong and ready land force worldwide.

Who We Are:

- The 418th Brigade helps organizations get the supplies and services they need by managing contracts. Serving the central and western U.S., the Brigade has nine (9) teams dedicated to providing excellent customer support.
- We manage the contracts needed for training, deployments, and everyday operations for several key Army organizations, including I Corps, III Corps, and the Army's Testing and Training Centers. We support these organizations at ten (10) Army installations across the country.
- Our team handles over $1B worth of contracts annually to secure essential supplies, services, and small building projects for the Army.
