

STATEMENT OF WORK

Employee Training – Congressional Operations

1. Objective/Requirements

The Office of the Chief Human Capital Officer is requesting external Employee Training sessions be procured and internally hosted for NASA employees and leaders. Understanding the Congressional process and key stakeholders is a critical knowledge set for many of our employees. Additionally, understanding the implications of election outcomes regarding congressional organization and leadership, the legislative agenda, and prospects for key legislative-executive branch issues.

2. Characteristics, Scope, and Specs

Congressional Operations

a. Deliverables for this task include:

Delivery of one (1), 2-day virtual learning session (max. 80 participants) tailored to provide NASA employees with a better understanding of the role of Congress with respect to the executive branch in general and NASA in particular. Facilitators and speakers will address congressional processes, responsibilities and procedures, as well as the unique culture of the United States Congress.

b. Specific topics should include but may not be limited to:

- The Nature of Congress
- Congressional Organization
- Key Stages in the Legislative Process
- Leadership and Organization in the 117th Congress
- Understanding a Member's Personal Office
- The Role of Committee Staff and Committee Hearing Process
- Appropriations Process & Funding NASA
- Space and Science Policy: Past and Current Trends
- Understanding House and Senate Floor Activity
- Political Dynamics in the Current Congress

a. Place of Performance
