JUSTIFICATION FOR OTHER THAN FULL AND OPEN COMPETITION

1. Defense Logistics Agency (DLA) Troop Support, Clothing and Textiles Supply Chain, is the agency and contracting activity.

3. The following are the requirements to meet DLA's need for the Crew Survival Unit (CSU)-23P, Advanced Technology Anti-G Suit (23/P ATAGS):

The total estimated dollar value of the awards is [REDACTED]

4. The applicable statutory authority permitting other than full and open competition is 10 U.S.C. § 3204(a)(1), as implemented by FAR Part 6.302-1, Only One Responsible Source and No Other Supplies or Services Will Satisfy Agency Requirements.
5. The use of this authority is necessary because Vinyl Technology (Vinyl) is currently the only approved source of supply of the 23/P ATAGS. Vinyl was awarded contract SPE1C1-24-C-0016 on August 23, 2024 for 140 units 23/P ATAGS. The 23/P ATAGS are made in accordance with specification number HSW AT AGS-OO Rev. D, 30 August 2006, specification number 40470G-01KX-0 Rev. B and all applicable drawings.

The 23/P ATAGS is the only item known that can meet the needs of an F-22 pilot. The F-22 is a high-performance aircraft and flies higher and faster and pulls more G forces than other Air Force aircraft. The ATAGS provides 9G-force protection vice a standard anti-gravity suit, which only provides 7G-force protection. The 23/P ATAGS are designed to prevent the pilot from losing consciousness during high-G maneuvers.

The garment protects the crewmember against visual dimming, black out, unconsciousness and excessive fatigue caused by exposure to centrifugal forces during aircraft high-G maneuvers. Without the 23/P ATAGS, a military fighter pilot is exposed to G-induced loss of consciousness (G-LOC) which occurs when blood is forced into the lower region of the body in reaction to acceleration or deceleration during high-G maneuvers in military fighter aircraft. It is the most critical "life and limb" flight clothing for jet pilots. [REDACTED]

The 23/P ATAGS is an Engineering Source Approval (ESA) item. The Air Force is the approval authority and currently Vinyl is the only approved source of supply. There are no other sources qualified to produce this item and there are no companies currently going through the Air Force qualification process which [REDACTED]

Vinyl was the sole offeror for the solicitation that resulted in the award of contract SPE1C1-24-C-0016. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] DLA has an immediate need for this quantity as explained in the following paragraph.

[REDACTED]

A new contract for the 23/P ATAGS could take eight (8) months to award. Modifying Vinyl's contract SPE1C1-24-C-0016 for the addition of the 155 23/P ATAGS would reduce the procurement lead-time and production lead-time which benefits the warfighter.

Based on the above, there is a reasonable basis to conclude that the agency's minimum needs can only be satisfied by only one supplier, Vinyl, who has unique capabilities and qualifications.

6. The proposed requirement will be synopsisized in Contract Opportunities Point of Entry website SAM.Gov pending approval of the subject J&A in accordance with FAR Subpart 5.2. This justification will be made available for public inspection on SAM.Gov in accordance with FAR 6.305 when the modification is issued. Vinyl is the only vendor that submitted a proposal for the solicitation that resulted in the award of contract SPE1C1-24-C-0016. Vendors must be source approved prior to award and, due to the extensive qualification process, no other sources will be given an opportunity to participate in the acquisition of the 155 units of the 23/P ATAGS.

8. Market research was conducted on the acquisition that resulted in the award of contract SPE1C1-24-C-0016 and no other sources other than Vinyl expressed interest in the acquisition. The Air Force has had discussions and provided documents (drawings) to [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] In December 2024 DLA Troop Support conducted market research for the 23/P ATAGS and contacted these two known vendors. Both vendors stated they are not interested in pursuing manufacturing the 23/P ATAGS. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Currently, only Vinyl is able to meet the immediate needs for the Air Force. DLA Troop Support, in conjunction with the Air Force, will continue all efforts to look for new potential vendors. In addition, subsequent acquisitions will involve market research by DLA Troop Support and the Air Force to identify new potential vendors in the market.

9. There are no additional facts supporting the use of other than full and open competition.

10. Vinyl was the only firm that expressed interest in the acquisition that resulted in the award SPE1C1-24-C-0016. As such, it is anticipated that only Vinyl would be interested in the quantity of 155 23/P ATAGS.

11. Vendors who are interested in obtaining ESA approval for the 23/P ATAGS will be directed to the Air Force Engineering Support Activity for evaluation to determine if they meet the specifications for consideration for future acquisitions.

12. As the Contracting Officer, I hereby certify that this justification is accurate and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief.
