The characteristics of the services that limit the availability to a sole source for Gunderson Clinic can be summarized as follows:

Geographic Exclusivity: Gunderson Clinic is the only known provider of medical services within the immediate area for employee access. This geographic exclusivity significantly limits the possibility of contracting with any other medical facilities for similar services, as there are no alternative providers within a reasonable proximity to offer the same level of care or services.

Exclusive Capability to Provide All Services: Gunderson Clinic is the only medical facility offering the complete range of services under one contract. This makes them unique in terms of having the infrastructure, staff, and expertise to provide the full scope of required services.

Access to Medical History: Gunderson Clinic possesses comprehensive medical records and histories for each employee. This data is crucial for providing personalized and effective care and having access to it streamlines the process of offering continued or ongoing services.
